Hello fellow equestrians,

I think we can all see that summer is on the way out and the crisp, cool fall is fighting its way into our lives. Due to circumstances beyond my control I feel like I haven't seen many of you as much as I would have liked to this summer. Hopefully those of you who have been riding have had a great time with your animals and your friends.

I have always appreciated those who can share their thoughts in poem, especially those about horses, cowboys, and the old ways of life. I came across this poem and wanted to share it with you. It kind of says things the way I feel when I am out with my animals.

We have some great activities, rides and service oriented projects, planned for the month of October. I am hoping to see many of you out to spend the last few weeks of good weather riding and associating with our members. Please look at your calendar and plan to get out with us this next month.

Perry
The Cowboy

The legacy of a Cowboy,
Can be written in a song;
About the misty mountain passes,
Where the Cowboy's life belongs;

About the days spent in the saddle,
Punching cattle and mending fence;
At home with Mother Nature,
Living life in his defense;

All the nights spent under stars,
With the campfire burning low;
Riding range on shifty heifers,
In the rain and blowing snow;

Icicles hang from his mustache,
As he pulls his coat in tight;
Steam rolls off his horse's flanks,
Disappearing into the night;

He works until the job is done,
And is up long before dawn;
See the legacy of a Cowboy,
Lives on long after he's gone.
